Fishing

Written by David McKenzie

To enjoy fishing you have to be patient.

What good luck!

It is a nice day.

I can go fishing.

What bad luck!

The weather man
said that it might rain.

What good luck!

I will be the only fisherman.

What bad luck!

I can't find my rod.

What good luck!

I can borrow my friend's rod.

What bad luck!

I've got no bait.

What good luck!

On my way I'll buy a packet of bait.

What bad luck!

I can't fish near the ferry.

What good luck!

I can go along the bank to a deep water spot.

What bad luck!

I have lost my bait, sinker
and hook on a snag.

What good luck!

I have some more hooks and sinkers.

What bad luck!

The fish don't seem to be biting.

What good luck!

I can feel the tug of a fish biting.

What bad luck!

He just got off.

What good luck!

I've caught a fish –
but smaller than the one that got away.

25 Stories

Written by learners and published as a resource for others to share
on their learning journeys

During the late 1980s and early 1990s, the Adult Literacy and Basic Education (ALBE) Resources Unit in Devonport, Tasmania, published over 50 stories that had been written by learners as part of their literacy learning program. The writers were closely involved in the production of their stories, with the understanding that the resources would be made available for other learners, teachers and tutors. Since their initial publication there has been continuing interest in the stories, that contain relevant content and appropriate reading levels for adult learners. They are widely used by individuals and organisations across Australia as reading resources and as models for writing.

25 Stories is a selection of those works that have been republished and made available to download, free of charge from the Tasmanian Council for Adult Literacy (TCAL) website, www.tcal.org.au. Each story has been assigned an Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF) level for reading and writing.

TasTAFE and TCAL wish to thank the original writers, illustrators, learners, teachers and publishers who have generously made these stories available for others to share.
